Our Code of Ethics

As a member of PCBA, I agree to:

1. Abide by all regulations and laws, living a code honorable to our sport.
2. Promote a positive public image of myself, physically challenged bow-hunters and bowhunting in general.
3. Share the wonderment of the sport of bowhunting with others, especially the physically challenged, at every opportunity.
4. Practice the utmost safety at all times and insist that those around me do likewise.
5. Show respect and compassion for the game I pursue, before and after the harvest.
6. Put more into wildlife and bowhunting than I take out.
7. Do my best to assist physically challenged bowhunters who need help, and to assist physically-challenged persons who do not bowhunt with getting involved in the sport.
8. Strive to continuously improve as a bowhunter and an outdoorsperson.
9. Only hunt with ethical, law-abiding hunters.

Our Mission

The PCBA will provide support and resources to physically challenged bowhunters to achieve their goals and dreams.

-  Information and Instruction on "How-to" shoot a bow.
-  Access to information on adaptive equipment for archery & bowhunting.
-  Information about guides and outfitters who offer hunting opportunities to the physically challenged.
-  Bowhunting areas that are accessible.
-  Opportunities to experience fellowship and camaraderie through archery & bowhunting.
-  The opportunity for everyone to enjoy the great outdoors through archery & bowhunting.

Hello Everyone!

I just got back to the house from my first turkey hunt of the spring season and although I did not see a bird, I found myself having a wonderful relaxing time sitting in the ground blind with my bow, watching the sun come up over the clover field, seeing the squirrels rustling in the leaves, and listening to the song birds filling the morning air with their chatter. Isn't bowhunting truly the best therapy in the world?

I am pleased to announce that your PCBA is on the move. By that I mean that your elected Board of Directors is actively taking our organization to new heights. One of the board members organized a pheasant hunt fundraiser (thanks Aubrey) that generated close to $1500 profit to assist with the funding of other hunts, while another has been actively coordinating two more new hunt opportunities (one in Ohio and one in Wisconsin). Another board member has brought new expertise and resources to the organization in the form of someone to develop an improved website, with on-line membership, new and renewal payment options as well as eventual on-line voting. Other board members are working on developing a new Corporate Sponsorship program and finding additional hunt opportunities.

There is a lot going on in the background that you as a member will never be exposed to and for these actions you should be grateful. Please, when you see one of your Board of Director members, take the time to thank them for their unselfish contributions to the PCBA.

I want to welcome Paul Milroy, our newest volunteer as the PCBA Maine State representative. Please take the time to read Paul's biography and find his contact information on page 13 of this edition. With Paul's addition, we now have 16 state representatives and a definite need to cover even more states. If you think you would like more information regarding being a state representative, please contact me at the number listed inside the front page. Also, check out the PCBA State Rep article that covers some of the activities that your state reps have been involved with.

It's that time of the year when The Good News contains all the hunt applications for this fall's PCBA sponsored hunts. To give yourself an ample opportunity to be selected for the hunt you wish to participate in, please write as legibly as possible, enclose the proper amount on your checks or money orders, and most importantly – SUBMIT YOUR APPLICATION AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. There is nothing more discouraging than to have the hunt coordinator have to contact you and tell you your application arrived too late and we have already drawn for all the hunts. However, the good news this year is that we are now offering nine different hunt opportunities with more on the horizon.

Don't forget the African Safari "Silent Auction" being managed by our Minnesota State Rep Doug Bermel. This is an awesome opportunity for some lucky individual to take a hunt-of-a-lifetime.

Hopefully in the next The Good News, I will be able to share a picture of a nice turkey... or a dumb one that I harvest in the next two weeks. If you have any photos of your hunting harvest that you would like to share, please send them to Mark Bergin our Editor at his new address. By the way, Mark Bergin and our New York State Rep. Linda Grace have been working on a special 20th Year Anniversary shirt. After the design phase and printing is completed, we will let the members know how to order one, and cross your fingers, we will have our on-line store up and functioning at the same time.

Enjoy this edition of The Good News and please send in your articles to Mark Bergin at: pcba_mark@yahoo.com as we always want to hear from ALL of our members regarding your success, ideas, advice or just plain old fun... in the great outdoors. 🍄

PCBA President

Summer is in full swing and fall is right on its heels

As you read this... depending on where you reside in the United States, the fall bow hunting season is only weeks away. That means you could soon be pursuing antelope, deer, bear, elk, turkeys, hogs, predators and even small game with your bow. Whether your goal is to "fill-the-freezer" or put that "once-of-a-lifetime" on the wall. This year could be your best year ever. It's a time to dream, where anything is possible.

This fall the PCBA is hoping to have its best year ever, as well, to reach out to more physically challenged bowhunters with assistance and even more bowhunting opportunities. In this issue of The Good News, you will find more PCBA bowhunts this year than last, with even more physically challenged bowhunting opportunities just a phone call away.

It is my hope that this year is the year you fill out your first PCBA hunting application and attend your first PCBA bowhunt. I promise you, it will be a life changing experience.

Speaking of life changing, due to health reasons, my wife Laurie and I, along with our two dogs Brook and Yara, have moved from upstate New York to Southwest Florida. My email and phone number remains the same, only my address has changed (see inside cover). Please add my new info into your contact list. That way you'll have it handy, when you need to send your pictures and articles to The Good News. I'm hoping that this year we hear from more of you with articles, ideas, and photos. After all, with more hunting opportunities should come more stories. Without you, The Good News does not exist. I want to hear from all of you this season!

Here in Florida, I'm in the process of working out details for accessing some local private hog and turkey property for our physically challenged members. If this is something that would interest you, and you can make it down to the Fort Myers International Airport, send me an email. We'll see what happens. But don't think you're getting out of town without writing an article about your experience.

God Bless,
Mark A. Bergin

Getting into the members only "Ten-Ring" area of our website: www.pcba-inc.org

If you are having problems getting into the Ten Ring, you're not alone. I have heard from a few members needing assistance.

Try these steps to get in:

- 1 - click the "Ten Ring" on our home page.
- 2 - put in your first name with initial cap followed by the underscore sign followed by last name with initial cap in the Username area (no spaces).
example: Username: John_Doe
- 3- place the PCBA membership number issued to you in the password area.
example: Password: 123
- 4- click the "Login" button
- 5- if you are NOT now in the members only Ten Ring area, send me an email with "Ten Ring problem" in the subject line. Give me your first and last name along with your PCBA membership number and I will resolve your entering the Ten Ring issue and get back to you.

PCBA State Rep. Update

Alabama: Continuing to work on developing new deer hunt opportunity in the Southern Region. Will be attending the Adalusia, Alabama Outdoor Sports Expo during the week of June 28-30. Come stop by our PCBA booth!

Georgia: Coordinated $20,000 donation of products and services with C'Mere Deer manufacturing corporate sponsor. Products to be used at all our deer hunt locations where supplemental minerals are authorized. Will also be attending the show in Andalusia and working with potential sponsors during the July 5-6 NASCAR race at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

Indiana: Working with the Graveyard Hunt Club in Washington, Indiana for the development of a new hunt opportunity for four PCBA members this October. Assisted the PCBA President with a visit to a potential new hunt site in central Ohio for three PCBA members.

Michigan: Coordinated donation container program for the PCBA State Reps. Containers obtained and forwarded to all state reps. Continuing to work on the First Annual Michigan Whitetail Deer hunt to be held this year the week of October 16-19. See the hunt application section of this The Good News.

New York: Volunteered to step up and fulfill the role of PCBA Secretary when current secretary resigned. If you are a New York State PCBA member and would like to consider a more active role with the PCBA contact our New York State Rep for more information.

Ohio: Scheduling first Ohio deer hunt working party for June 7-9 and additional working party dates to be announced for later times this summer. Any PCBA member is invited to come and assist with this effort as we are going to be working with the Deerassic Deer Education Center (who hosts our fall Ohio deer hunt) with some minor facility maintenance items.

Pennsylvania: Actively pursuing hunt opportunities (turkey, hogs, and deer) within the state. Local archery organizations assisting with information. Assisted PCBA President with research of potential new hunt. Taking short sabbatical for personal health issues. Will return to full status in a few weeks. 📧

14th Annual All-Expense-Paid PCBA-OH Whitetail Deer Hunt, Deerassic Park, Cambridge, OH

The 14th annual PCBA-Ohio Physically Challenged Archery Deer Hunt will be held in Cambridge, Ohio and will take place on October 16-19, 2013. We will draw the "Lucky Ten" (10) physically challenged hunters to participate. No able-bodied aides will be allowed to hunt during this hunt. All expenses will be paid for the drawn hunters. Ohio residents will need to provide their hunting license and proper deer tags.

PCBA will provide an out-of-state hunting license with one sex deer tag, all meals, snack and drinks and the four (4) nights lodging (Wednesday through Saturday nights). Check-in will be Wednesday, October 16 by noon. All hunters will be required to shoot their bows/crossbows with broadheads on to make sure everything is "on" due to travel. Hunting will begin early Thursday morning. Hunters will hunt Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Checkout will be Sunday morning.

You will be allowed to purchase multiple doe tags but only one buck. All volunteers and guides will be available to provide everything you should require. We plan to have a meat processor on hand, so bring your coolers.

The deer hunting is exceptional and provides many possibilities for our hunters to take some record deer. Families are allowed to attend this hunt but we ask that no children under 14 years of age (unless hunting) be in camp during the hunt hours of 5AM to 6PM. Children will be allowed to join their families in camp for the evening meals however. All children in camp will be the responsibility of their parents and will not be permitted on any equipment. This is a set policy so our special hunters can enjoy their hunt.

If you will be flying in, use Port Columbus Airport.

The "Lucky Ten" and five alternates who are drawn will receive a call from the PCBA after the September drawing to allow time to make travel arrangements.

Registration will be from July 1 to August 31. Notification of hunters will be on or before September 2. To enter this drawing, please complete the application below and mail with a check for $5 (processing fee).

1st Annual All-Expense-Paid PCBA-MI Whitetail Deer Hunt, Whittimore, MI

The 1st Annual PCBA-Michigan Physically Challenged Archery Deer Hunt will be held in Whittimore, Michigan and will take place on October 16-19, 2013. We will draw the "Lucky Four" (4) physically challenged hunters to participate. No able-bodied aides will be allowed to hunt during this hunt. All expenses will be paid for the drawn hunters. MI residents will need to provide their hunting license and proper deer tags.

PCBA will provide an out-of-state hunting license with one sex deer tag, all meals, snack and drinks and the four (4) nights lodging (Wednesday through Saturday nights). Check-in will be Wednesday, October 17 by noon. All hunters will be required to shoot their bows/crossbows with broadheads on to make sure everything is "on" due to travel. Hunting will begin early Thursday morning. Hunters will hunt Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Checkout will be Sunday morning. We are about Quality Deer Management, which means only a 6-point buck or better can be harvested from this property. So remember...if you're the kind of hunter that can't pass up the small bucks, this hunt is not for you.

You will be allowed to purchase multiple doe tags but only one buck. All volunteers and guides will be available to provide everything you should require. We plan to have a meat processor on hand, so bring your coolers.

The deer hunting is exceptional and provides many possibilities for our hunters to take some record deer. Families are encouraged to attend this hunt, but we ask that no children be left unattended while at Little Island Rustic Resort. Fishing is available at the resort, but you must supply your own fishing license. We have poles available if needed.

If you will be flying in, use MBS International Airport in Saginaw, Michigan. Hunter pick-up can be arranged.

The "Lucky Four" and five alternates who are drawn will receive a call from the PCBA after the September drawing to allow time to make travel arrangements.

Registration will be from July 1 to August 31. Notification of hunters will be on or before September 3. To enter this drawing, please complete the application below and mail with a check for $5 (processing fee).

ELK BOWHUNT OFFERED

Now is your chance to enter for the 2014 season and get that special elk call from Jeff.

Jeff Sanderson has invited one PCBA member to hunt elk with him in the hills of WY for the 2014 season. Over the last few years, Jeff and one lucky physically challenged hunter have done very well. Jeff really knows the elk and the area. He will do his best to help the winner take home some great elk meat.

Only disabled PCBA members may apply. All hunters applying for the drawing must be able to move around in the trees and hills.

If you're interested in applying, please contact Jeff by Aug. 20, 2013.

He has changed the date for the draw of the elk hunt so the person whose name is drawn can apply for points.

For more information contact Jeff: Jeff Sanderson PO Box 996 Lyman, WY 82937

WHITETAIL BOWHUNT OFFERED

Now is your chance to bowhunt the great state of Wisconsin with Hop.

William Kokaska (aka Hop Crow) has invited one PCBA member to hunt whitetail at his place in Wisconsin this upcoming bow season. Hop has many established ground blinds which a hunter using a wheelchair will have no problem using. In the past, Hop has put on hunts for disabled hunters and knows what it takes to have a successful hunt.

Only disabled PCBA members may apply. To learn more about what this fall whitetail bowhunt entails and wish to take Hop up on his amazing offer, should contact him directly at (773) 552-8182. Remember, The Good News wants to hear from you and see your pictures after the hunt. Let everyone see your success out in Wisconsin and learn if this hunt might interest them. ☺

Here's the PCBA disabled hunters heading to Gillette, Wyoming this Sept. for speed goats.

Look forward to hearing about this hunt if you are not attending. The Good News is asking the hunters listed to the right to send in their hunting stories and pictures about Gillette. After all, we at the PCBA don't ask for much. We feel strongly that they do so to help inspire other disabled members to make the trip out to our PCBA family out in Wyoming. It truly is a once-in-a-lifetime bowhunt.

Hunting Specific Bucks

By Aubrey Gale

Ever since I was 16-years-old, I've hunted deer and never missed a season even when I served my country I manage to find away to get in the woods. I've shot literally hundreds of does and bucks in 13 different states over the past 50 years using rifle, shotgun, muzzleloader, long bow, recurve, compound and crossbow, no matter which weapon I use, I love it!

Many people ask me what was your favorite hunt? What's your favorite animal to hunt? What's the most dangerous animal you've hunted? What's the best place to hunt? But no one has asked me, what's the hardest hunt you ever went on?

In the past 15 years, I've been on many management hunts on properties that are very strict on which bucks you are allowed to hunt. There are many different management plans and different opinions on what management is or should be.

So when your invited to hunt specific bucks of certain ages 3½ years old, with antler restrictions of 8 points or less and scoring 150 inches or less, can be fun and frustrating at the same time. In my case I was hunting in Illinois on several large tracks of land equaling around 3,000 acres with at least 30 food plots and double that in tree stands.

You are probably saying, "Wow! That would be fun!" and it is and it isn't. I will try to explain the best I can, with today's trail cameras you can get a pretty good perspective of the animals roaming the countryside of the lands you have permission to hunt on. These properties I have permission on have as many cameras as food plots, so you have a pretty good idea what bucks you have to kill and where you might see them and what time for the first few days, but as the season goes on it all changes.

It was late October before I got to hunt the first time and we spent the first night going over hundreds of pictures of bucks and picking out which ones met the manager's criteria that I could fill my tag with. I took pictures with my iPhone of each buck so I could have a quick reference when in doubt and not make any mistakes plus we needed to take three does too! Well I figured to waste no time filling doe tags and take a buck when opportunity knocks and that went fairly well filling doe tags; the buck was something else.

I spent 4 days hunting, killed two does, and saw numerous bucks either too young, too small or too many points. I mean really nice nine and ten points that were three and a half years or older, but not any that I could shoot. I sure didn't want to make any mistakes and loss the privilege to hunt here again in Illinois for free ranging whitetails on prime property. If you're hunting bucks you would kill anywhere else, you can get pretty frustrated.

The next time I hunted was right before the Illinois muzzle loader season and bucks were running everywhere. The only ones I could have shot were too big or too young again. I would see the best bucks on the place, even a couple of Boone and Crocketts which were hands off. It was a ball, but at the same time, frustrating.

Finally in December, the older bucks were feeding heavily after the rut on turnips and I found the buck I wanted on my hit list. He came out one night and just didn't give me the right shot and I had to pass on a 180 plus class buck that was gorgeous, but couldn't shoot either. So close, but no cigar, as they say.

The next evening as I was going into the turnip field, there he was already munching on his eventual downfall. I was able to sneak out of there and hunt another spot but he was all I could think of that night. The next night the wind was really bad, so I went somewhere else again not wanting to make any mistakes.

I was supposed to go home the night before, but I couldn't leave now. I had him pinned down, so I called my wife and she gave me her blessing. That night the wind wasn't perfect, but I doubled up on my Scent-lok and headed out very early. Does came in first and fed all around me. They got down wind and I got away with it, so my confidence rose. If he shows up I can get this done. The does meandered off when three bucks showed up and both were shooters, but not the one I had my mind set on. They never did give me a shot. But they were very nervous. Making me nervous, they might mess me up. Finally they wondered off the same direction as the does to a bean field.

I had about half an hour of day light left and there he was coming out right where I wanted him. He was watching the deer in the bean field two hundred yards away and settled in eating turnips, but I had no shot. He began to move forward and appeared to be heading towards the other deer walking fast. I quickly pulled back my Mathews and grunted him to a stop at 39 yards; I knew this by ranging him just prior to him leaving and put my 40-yard pin on him and released. In just a few moments, all my frustrations were gone when my specific buck fell in ten yards.

I hardly remember climbing down the tree and rushing over to my prize; what a thrill to get the buck you have targeted and admire him lying there. The land manager was as thrilled as I was and we did a lot of high fives and thank you Lord! The buck was 5½ years old and weighed around 250 pounds. I'm looking forward to going back next year and getting frustrated all over again! 🍀

Paul Milroy, Your New Maine State Rep.

My name is Paul Milroy. I was born in Rhode Island in 1961. I lived there till I was 18 and moved to Maine to go to Nasson College in Sprinvale. I completed one year then went to work in the social services field as a house parent in a group home with six multi-handicapped children. Was there for about two and a half years. I then moved onto other agencies in the state. I spent about twenty years in different positions ending with a five-year management position running an adult day program for disabled adults. I became disabled myself in 1996 after I had several spinal fractures caused by medication induced osteoporosis. In 1997, I had a bad enough fracture that put me into a wheelchair for the next ten years. Luckily I was able to get out of the chair and continue to use a cane and some days a walker to get around. I have a beautiful daughter who was born in 1988 and continues to live nearby. She has given me two beautiful granddaughters who are the light of my life. She has done well and is working as a RN in the Portland area. I started hunting in 1980 when I moved to Maine and have a strong passion for it. I thought my hunting days were over after I got hurt, but thanks to PCBA, I realized that I could still achieve my hunting goals. I was fortunate to be able to attend the 22nd annual Ohio hunt and had a great time. I have always been a strong advocate of people with disabilities and try to help break down the barriers we face whether it's for hunting or in the community. I strongly believe that continued education to the public and people with disabilities about what we can do versus not will just make things better all the time. I feel that not only my own challenges, but my background in social services will be beneficial in being a state rep for Maine. I feel I have the drive to help others realize their potential and that their access to hunting is still there. I continue to meet my physical challenges head on every day.

African Raffle in Progress - MAIL IN SILENT AUCTION

Kudu Adventure Safaris is donating a 6-day African hunt with a $1000 credit on any animals taken. The hunt can be used by any PCBA member, abled or disabled. The Hunting Camp is fully accessible for a wheelchair user. Any hunting methods can be used: gun, bow, or crossbow. If a disabled hunter has the winning bid, they can bring an assistant with them for $200 a day. Assistant may or may not be a hunter.

This will be a silent auction bidding hunt.

Any member of the PCBA can submit a sealed bid. Highest bidder will be awarded the hunt. All proceeds go to the PCBA. The hunt is valued at over $5,000.

All bids can be sent to:

Doug Bermel
 38527 Tiger ST NW • Princeton MN 55371

Bids need to be sent in by September 1, 2013.

The winning bid will be announced September 5-7 during the 12th Annual Gillette, Wyoming Antelope Hunt.

We can also help with airline travel and getting the necessary permits.

Kudu Adventure Safaris invites you on an unforgettable hunting safari in the company of professional hunters who have many years of experience in big game hunting, including big five hunting. Our team of professional hunters is led by Alex Duvenage, member of the South African Hunting Association, who is well known in the United States, as well as South Africa.

A hunting safari in South Africa offers the hunter a number of big game species. South Africa is the ultimate hunting destination.

If you need more information, you can call Doug at 612-750-2826 or email dabermel@hotmail.com or go to the Kudu Adventure Safaris website Kuduadventuresafaris.co.za 🇺🇸
